Jonah Learns the Heart of God

Jonah 4:5-11

Josh Wheatley

Summary: God gives Jonah an object lesson on true compassion.

God Appoints a Lesson (4:5-9):

1. "Appoints/provides/prepares" teaches us about God's Providence. "The doctrine of God's providence assures us that his personal relationship to us is important. He knows each of us and each one matters to him." (Erickson, Christian Theology, 376)

2. God's Providence was working to "vomit" things out of Jonah. God "saved" Jonah through a fish, which "vomited" Jonah's gratitude. God "delivered/rescued" Jonah through a plant, which "vomited" Jonah's bad attitude.

God Affirms his Love (4:10-11):

1. God "weeps" for his creatures.
2. We don't love what God loves.

What's your last chapter?

"Because the book of Jonah ends this way, the text invites us to write our own final paragraphs and chapters. That is, God calls us to apply this text to our own lives, in our own time and place...So, what is our relationship to God's Word, world, and grace?" (Keller, Prodigal Prophet, 135)
